The Jewish People.

The Hebrew National of London says that there are six millions of Jews in the world. It is a remarkable fact that the numbers of this wonderful people have not materially increased or diminished since the time of Christ. Persecuted as no other people have ever been, they have maintained their ancient faith, and though for hundreds of years they were able at any time to be exterminated in almost every kingdom of Europe, and thousands of them were put to death every year by the most cruel tyrants, yet they were not very much reduced in number during all those dark ages. Now that their persecutions have been generally stopped in all civilized nations, the fact does not seem to have caused a decrease of Jews, but to increase much, and not many more of the race adore Moloch in the days of prosperity than in those of adversity.

There is a reason for this difference in the increase of the Jewish people compared with that of all the families of the earth. What is the cause of this strange phenomenon we cannot yet tell, but it will be explained to future generations. In the mean time, the House of Israel is a standing miracle—a record before the eyes of this unbelieving 19th century of the truths of the prophecies from those of Moses to those of Malachi.

A Severe Winter Predicted.

The coming winter, says the Peterburg Index, is predicted to be a very hard one. Old hunters and woodsmen on this continent and scientific calculator both here and in Europe have advanced signs and tokens of an early and severe season, founded upon the observation, experience and study of years, which cannot be rejected. Animals in houses themselves away in the cold season have advanced their preparations for the frost, while the fearful tempests that recently have raged upon sea and land, are regarded as no evil omen.

It will doubtless be remembered by all what a remarkably mild winter the last was. Much of the time the temperature was that of early spring, and save at intervals, but little increase of clothing was needed in this climate, and the suffering among the poorer classes was comparatively trifling.

In point of mildness the winters of 1797, 1822, 1823 and 1834, are the only ones within the last three-quarters of a century that approached it.

A distinguished savant, writing to the Bulletin of the Scientific Society of Europe, tells the world that since the atmospheric perturbations of 1859 '60, the years have been warmer, clearer and dryer, and the barometer pressure lighter than before. The anomalies, he thinks, cannot fail to find their compensation ere long, the winter before last closely corresponding with that of 1823, and everything bodevoting that about 1873 we shall have a great winter like that of 1829-30.

The savants are not invariably right, but there is accumulated evidence in their favor to show that on general indications, and careful comparisons kept up for years past, they can make some fair predictions concerning the year to come.

These predictions may not fall unpleasantly upon the ears of those whose business it is to sell winter wear and winter material—especially when comfort and plenty fill their homes—but to the poor they are alarming. We trust for their sake the season may not be exceptionally severe. But at any rate, whether the predictions are fulfilled or not, it would be both wise and politic to be prepared as far as possible for what may come. At least no harm can result from such precautions.

Special Dispatch to Baltimore Gazette.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1, 1869.

Among a number of interesting decisions rendered to-day in the Supreme Court of the United States, there are two that will command general attention.

The most important opinion was delivered by the Chief Justice, in a case from Alabama, involving the validity of contracts between citizens of the Confederate States entered into during the war, and payable in or requiring the payment of Confederate money. The Court held that although the Confederate Government was an illegality and a nullity under the laws and Constitution of the United States, it was, nevertheless, a "de facto" Government, as respects those States over which its authority in fact extended, and that the citizens of those States, being compelled to obey its laws and carry on all the business of life under them, might lawfully contract under and with reference to those laws, and to the money which they created and legalized. Contracts entered into for the mere promotion of the Confederate cause would not, of course, be enforced in the Federal courts, but those between private individuals, for private purposes, were in the same category as fair contracts made in an invaded country, according to the laws imposed by the invader, during his occupation.

The opinion of the Chief Justice, which was elaborate and able, entered fully into the consideration and classification of "de facto" governments, several of which were enumerated and historically illustrated. The two cases to which the present was particularly likened were those presented by the British occupation of Ostend, in Maine, during the war of 1812, and our own holding of Tampico during the Mexican war. In both of those cases the Supreme Court had held that obedience and temporary allegiance were due to the Government by which the territory was occupied and controlled for the time, and that its laws and regulations, as enforced, determined the rights of parties within the limits of occupations.

The controversy at bar was for "dollars," and the Court held that the evidence was admissible to show that Confederate, and no Federal, dollars were meant.

The other case was from Virginia, and involved the constitutional power of the States to impose taxes on foreign corporations exercising their franchises in the taxing State, and to require special licenses to be taken out by the agents of such corporations. The Court (Mr. Justice Field delivering the opinion) held that corporations are not "citizens" under sec. 2, art. 4 of the Constitution, which confers all privileges and immunities of citizenship, in the several States, on the citizens of each. They are the creatures of State legislation, and have no rights or powers outside the territory of their creation, except such as the comity of other States may concede to them. If they desire to exercise their franchises in any other State, they must accept the terms which it sees fit to impose.

POOR BEAN!—We find the following relative to one of Washington's well-known personages in the Baltimore American:

The hotels and the retail liquor establishments were haunted yesterday by a shabby genteel old gentleman, wearing well-brushed but faded blue clothes, a plug hat with a huge weed pinned about it, and carrying an ivory cane. With the air of John Hopkins surveying a block of his new buildings on south Frederick-street. This imperious gentleman was the celebrated Bean Hickman, of Washington, who had forsaken the capital city to have a capital time in the city of Baltimore. He enjoyed considerable celebrity, and as he lounged in bar-rooms, considered along the street was frequently pointed out by those who happened to know him. An amusing incident occurred on Baltimore street as he was standing on one of its corners. Two friends caught sight of him while he was standing near them. Said one, "There's Bean Hickman on the corner." Said the other, "The— it is." Bean heard the last remark. He wheeled around, and with the air of the port warden contemplating his magnificent improvements on Jones's Falls, said, "Yes, the— this is Bean Hickman; and now you've seen my physiognomy, don't you think it worth a quarter?" The gentleman handed out a portrait of the late Mr. Fessenden and incontinently sloped.

A convention is to be held at Oskaloosa, Iowa, next week, to urge the recognition of God and the truth of the Christian religion in the national Constitution.

Death of Judge Person.

The death of this distinguished gentleman has cast a gloom over this community the like of which it has seldom experienced before, and has drawn forth expressions of sorrow and regret from all classes of our citizens. His amiable character, high social qualities, dignified though unostentatious bearing and quiet, unobtrusive manners, had made him universally respected and beloved, while his superior legal attainments had given him a reputation among the members of his profession, which few attain. Only a few short days ago we saw him in his seat in the court room, acting as one of the counsel for the prosecution of the "Cuba" case, and at the same time apparently the perfect embodiment of health. Now he has gone from among us—has plead his last cause before an earthly tribunal and now awaits a decision, in his case, of the great Judge of the earth.

ADJOURNMENT OF COURT.

As a slight token of respect to the memory of Judge Person, the Superior Court, which was in session yesterday, adjourned at 12 o'clock, M., for the remainder of the term. The announcement of his death to His Honor, Judge Russell, and the members of the Bar, among whom he was best known and appreciated, was Mr. A. Ehrlie, in the following words: "May it please the Court:—The members of the Bar have selected me to announce to the court the death of our beloved brother and friend, Sam. J. Person. This is not the time or the occasion to eulogize, or to even speak of the distinguished services of deceased. All we can now do is to pay a passing tribute to the memory, and to ask your Honor to adjourn this court for the remainder of this term, in order to—"

Here the speaker became so overpowered by his emotions that he was compelled to take his seat—a touching evidence of the appreciation in which deceased was held by his brother members of the Bar.

Judge Russell then said: As a slight tribute of respect to the memory of departed worth, this court stands adjourned.

The funeral of Judge Person at St. John's church Sunday afternoon last was very large. All classes of citizens turned out to pay the last and offices of respect to the memory of one who was so prominent in their midst. The church was crowded beyond its capacity, and the procession to the grave was quite large. Rt. Rev. Thomas Atkinson D. D., Bishop of the Diocese, and Rev. R. E. Terry officiated.

Winnington Journal.

HARD ON THE LAWYERS.—We find the following anecdote going the rounds. It is pretty good, and confessedly to the point. It runs thus: "A young lawyer was examining a bankrupt as to how he spent his money. There were about two thousand dollars unaccounted for, when the attorney put on a severe scrutinizing face, and exclaimed with much self-complacency: 'Now, sir, I want you to tell this court and jury how you used those two thousand dollars.' The bankrupt put on a serious face, winked at the audience, and exclaimed: 'The lawyers got that!'" The judge and audience were convulsed with laughter, and the counselor was glad to let the bankrupt off.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—We learn from a gentleman who was a passenger on the Petersburg train, which arrived at Weldon on Saturday last, that a Mr. Tighman, connected with one of the Weldon Hotels, in attempting to jump on the train, while crossing the bridge, missed his footing and fell under an engine. Both legs were crushed, one of them being entirely cut off from the hip, and he died the same night.

A gentleman informed us yesterday, that he had seen and examined the body of a colored boy, about seventeen years of age, who had been unmercifully whipped by some unknown persons, west of this city, with instructions to leave. This is a mystery, but is nevertheless true.—Standard.

We are pleased to receive continued reports of the good prospect of the corn crop in this county and section. It is turning out much better than at one time was anticipated. There is also a large tract and hogs are doing finely, while beef cattle are abundant.—Statesville American.

At Lansing, Iowa, thirty young men have formed themselves into a club, and vowed a solemn vow that no member shall marry any except a widow. The husbands of the piece are also cultivating clubs—mostly hickory—and swearing there will be a multiplicity of bachelor funerals forthwith.

LATEST NEWS.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1st.—Revenue to-day over $1,000,000. The Pacific Railroad commissioners' report says it will require over $500,000 to complete the Centra' and a half more for the Pacific road. They report that the officers of both roads are working in good faith.

In the case of S. A. Paul vs. Virginia, indicted for issuing insurance policies without State license, the Supreme Court affirmed the decision of the lower Court, holding that corporations are not citizens in the meaning of the constitution, and that the issuing of insurance policies is no part of commerce.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Malarious Fogs.

Countless millions of cubic feet of malarious vapor rise from the moist earth every twenty-four hours during the month of November. This evaporated moisture is the active principle which begets fever and ague, bilious remittents, indigestion, dysentery, bilious cholera, rheumatism, and many other ailments which prevail more generally in the Fall than at other seasons, and some of which, in low, swampy regions and new clearings, take the form of virulent epidemics. The best safeguard against these complaints, as evidenced by the experience of a long series of years, is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most pleasant and at the same time one of the most efficient of all vegetable tonics. The invigoration of the system is manifestly the best means of defending it against the causes of sickness, whether constitutional or casual. Nature, as every pathologist knows, is the most determined enemy of disease, and the paroxysms of an acute malady are in most instances the consequences of the efforts she makes to conquer the foe. The great object, therefore, of preventive treatment is to reinforce the system, and it is accomplished thoroughly, rapidly and safely, by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. This powerful tonic contains also an aperient and corrective principle. It is no less valuable as a regulator and purifier than as an invigorant, and there is no danger of exciting the brain or over-stimulating the circulation by employing it as an antidote.

What the Druggists Say.

PENNSYLVANIA, O., Aug. 14, 1867.

Gents—I have been dealing in proprietary medicines for the last fourteen years, and have never before found a preparation that would equal your "Pain Killer." It not only sells very rapidly, but gives the most perfect satisfaction in every case that has come to my knowledge.

In my practice I very seldom prescribe patent medicine, but having entire confidence in your "Pain Killer" and knowing that it possesses valuable medical proportions, I freely use it in my daily practice. It is the most standard medicine I have for sale, and many families in this vicinity would as soon think of being out of sleep or head-ache without a bottle of Pain Killer in the house.

Yours, very truly,

Panification is the name now applied to a process of bread-making recently discovered and patented in France. This method dispenses with the grinding of the wheat, and it is asserted, will produce 150 pounds of bread from 100 pounds of grain; while by the old plan of using flour only 112 pounds of bread are produced from the 100 pounds of wheat. The new kind of bread is said also to be of better quality than the old, as the gluten is not decomposed and lost by the heat of grinding. The new mode of fermentation, it is also asserted, contributes greatly to the whiteness of the bread.

A correspondent of the Wilmington Journal, writing from Columbia, says: "General Wade Hampton, whose family is residing at Millwood, the old family seat, has been here within the last few days. Just I understand that he has gone just now to Mississippi, where he is planting largely and with excellent success. God bless the peerless gentleman, and a word him an abundant prosperity that will insure him a large fortune in all his undertakings! If there is one name that excites admiration and evokes the noblest plaudits of the entire Southern people, it is the name of the noble, chivalrous Hampton."

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.—A prominent Democrat, in conversation regarding the political situation, asserted publicly tonight that the Democratic party would continue its policy of opposition to the principles of the reconstruction acts in all future elections, adding that finally the Supreme Court would sustain them, and predicted that the next Presidential campaign will be marred down to a struggle over the legality of the fourteenth amendment. In explanation, he declared that republicans, as well as anti-reconstructionists, would unite on such a platform, because the amendment, while prohibiting the payment of the rebel debt, guarantees the payment of the national debt, and opposition to it is, therefore, the national inclination of the great masses of the Democratic party.—Washington Correspondence Philadelphia Press.

SPLENDID LAND FOR SALE.

On TUESDAY the 7th day of December next, at noon, at the Court House in Charlotte, I will sell a tract of land, lying one mile east of the city of Charlotte, containing 1863 acres, one half of which is under cultivation, and the rest is heavily timbered. This is really a tract of first-rate land, the soil is good, adapted to corn, cotton and tobacco, and the timber alone, being so near the city, is of great value. Three large tobacco barns are on the premises. It is perhaps, the most valuable tract that will be offered near the city for years.

TO THE WORKING CLASS.—We are now prepared to furnish all classes with constant employment at home, the whole of the time or for the spare moments. Business new, light and profitable. Persons of either sex easily earn from 50c. to $5 per week, and a proportional sum by devoting their whole time to the business. Boys and girls earn nearly as much as men. That all who see this notice may send their address, and test the business, we make this unparalleled offer: To such as are not well satisfied, we will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing. Full particulars, a valuable sample, which will do to commence work on, and a copy of The People's Literary Companion—one of the largest and best family newspapers published—all sent free by mail. Reader, if you want permanent, profitable work, address E. C. ALLEN & CO., Acquitaine, MAINE.

MONEY WANTED ON GOOD

CITY PROPERTY.

As the Agents and Attorneys of the parties in interest, we wish to raise from $5,000 to $50,000, on a mortgage of that very valuable property in Charlotte, known as the "Beck with Property" situated near the centre of the city, and now occupied by C. M. Query.

All difficulties in regard to the title of this property have been fully adjusted; and parties with money to lend will here find a perfectly safe investment.

CHEERING SUCCESS.
LARGE DIVIDEND OF IN-SURANCE.
The Piedmont Life Insurance Company, of Virginia, has DECLARED A DIVIDEND OF FORTY PER CENT.
on its Life Policies, which have paid two annual premiums, and the same is available on such policies at next renewal to absorb loans, or reduce cash payments.
The dividend could have safely been larger, but with the
PRUDENCE AND CAUTION
which has ever guided this company, it has deemed it proper to hold a surplus beyond the reserve fund.
The company is now only in the eighteenth month
of its active operation—yet
HAS ISSUED 3,000 POLICIES which is a success truly remarkable, and far ahead of any company of like period in America or Europe; while its handsome dividend shows the wisdom of its administration, and the UNDOUBTED PERMANENCY OF ITS SUCCESS.

For Anti-theft or Burglary, and have been in successful operation for the last ten years, and have proved to be the best fire-place heaters manufactured and perfect operation. They are getting to be generally used, often in the place of furnaces, for heating the lower and upper rooms in dwellings and offices. Two or three stoves heating the largest dwellings, and besides, are quite ORNAMENTAL and ILLUMINATING, having all the beauty and characteristics of an open grate fire, but are more economical, CLANKER, and RADIATING A LARGER AMOUNT OF HEAT. We can refer to thousands of families who have them in use.
We manufacture our own COOKING STOVES, and we guarantee them to be equal to any sold for baking and cooking. We have stoves to take in long wood and with large open space for stoves for baking. We are getting out some new patterns of Cooking Stoves, that will burn kerosene oil, and will stand among the No. 1 Cook Stoves.
Our Cooking Stoves are Baltimore made, and we guarantee the quality of our Cooking Ranges, and preparation of the best and cheapest in the market.
Baking of all kinds can be done in our Ranges as quickly and equally as well as in a brick oven. We manufacture S. B. SEXTON'S new Patent Hot-Air Furnaces, warranted to burn from 30 to 70 hours with once filling.
